Unit 1 Check-In

Purpose: To build community and practice accessibility in our shared learning space.

Estimated Time: 45-60 minutes

Description: Select three questions and answer in 2-4 thoughtful sentences each. There are no "right" answers--this is about your authentic perspective.

Objectives: Use meaningful, multifaceted, ongoing reflection to identify how knowledge, skills, processes, and experiences can transfer across writing contexts (SLO #7)

Step 1: Select Three Survey Questions

- What skills or knowledge do you hope to gain from this course?
- How can writing challenge unfair systems and support liberation? Share an example (personal, historical, or fictional).
- What fairness/justice topics matter most to you? (e.g., environmental rights, human rights, etc.)
- How does your background (culture, gender, class, etc.) shape your writing voice or worldview?
- How could engaging with local issues/groups deepen your learning? Feel free to name specific causes.
- What can I do to help you thrive? (e.g., feedback style, resources, flexibility).

Step 2: Compose a Response for Questions

Construct a response in text, video, or audio that feels safe and meaningful. Just ensure your transcript and captions are present and accurate.

Step 3: Submit

Submit replies to this assignment folder or via email (email@email.edu).

Rubric:

- Answers show self-reflection and specificity
- Ideas are expressed with precision and care
- Addresses all 3 questions
